

Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

Last week I mentioned in this column that I would like to see a post season foot ball game between the Blue Devils and some other team. The proceeds to be given to the Dr. G. C. Clinic for Underprivileged Children in this area. Now I am reliably informed that just such a game is being planned and will be sponsored by the Pa-hokee Parent-Teachers association. Opponents for the Blue Devils and complete plans for the game will be forthcoming within a few days. P.T.A. officials said yesterday Tentative plans call for the game to be played in Pa-hokee on Friday night, December 6th. Therefore, if you are interested in the success of the clinic which is to be established and also want to see a good post season game—just reserve that date on your calendar. It will be a great treat and you are assured of an evening's entertainment, no matter who the Blue Devils play that night.

Fishing! I haven't said a word about fishing for lo these many weeks. But certain things cannot go unaided when the pictorial pastime is at its height. Richlands, Fla., has installed two huge ponds on its tract and at Englewood Canal Point and are draining several thousands of acres of land there for farming operations. I visited the spot over the weekend and saw many people catch so many fish with so many different kinds of outfits. It looked like it was impossible for a fellow to go away from there with a catch for two or three families. And nine times out of ten. Some weighed as much as seven and one-half pounds. They were hitting bob-ses at any depth. I have seen a lot of worms and other used live bait, but everybody caught fish and plenty of them. Naturally I would have to say, without any tackle at the time when they were biting best.

This afternoon the Pa-hokee Blue Devils made their Miami debut in search of another football victory. They are scheduled to do battle with Idia M. Fisher high school and the game will decide the winner of the new football conference. Pa-hokee has been going in the race but the Fisher aggregation has steadily worked its way to the top of the heap and the forecast is not too bright. I hope the boys take heart. I think in a big way because they have a fine record so far this season and I sure would hate to see it marred this late in the year.

Next Thanksgiving night—Thanksgiving Eve—the Pa-hokee Blue Devils will play Okeechobee in the final game of the season's schedule. Should the boys top Idia M. Fisher and Okeechobee, they would be setting a record for five victories and two defeats.

The winner of the conference or Pa-hokee will receive a trophy.

Fisher officials are preparing to care for the largest football crowd of the year at Flamingo park and no doubt that less than a half-fought, furious battle will be presented.

Now Thanksgiving night—Thanksgiving Day. This now and you'll call to mind all the reasons for which to be thankful. Right here in the Everglades people have more to be thankful for than folks living in the bleak, wintry northern country. They have every variety of green vegetables to eat. Don't have to shovel snow off the steps in the morning. No water pipes frozen. Don't have to go to those places. Don't have to worry about a lot of things that a lot of other folks have to worry about. So why after all—next Thursday doesn't sit back and say I don't have a reason to be thankful for—because you have.

HURRICANE GATE CONTRACT IS LET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A contract for construction of a hurricane gate was signed at Taylor creek, just east of Lake Wales, and North West Florida. The cost of the $100,000 structure was awarded by the state to a company today to the Pa-hokee Building Co., Inc., of Pa-hokee, Fla., was awarded by the state to the Spears Contracting Company of New York.

BLUE DEVILS OFF TO MIAMI TODAY FOR GRID BATTLE

Idia M. Fisher High, Miami Beach Will Furnish Today's Opposition

Coach Frank Hobson and his Pa-hokee high school Blue Devils left this morning for Miami Beach where they will battle this afternoon with the gridiron representatives of Idia M. Fisher high school. Coach Hobson announced before leaving that his regular line-up would be in the game with the possible exception of Denton, who has been in the injured list.

The Blue Devils look to this afternoon's game with a string of six victories and one defeat. The game today and the one Thanksgiving Eve at Okeechobee will bring an end to the regular season's schedule. Should the boys win both they will have given future Pa-hokee eleven wins of records.

Much interest is shown in the Magic City over the approaching game this afternoon and the Miami Herald yesterday morning had the following to say about it:

"Americans will pay more for Turkey and Cranberry Sauce

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Americans will pay more for Thanksgiving turkey and cranberry sauce this year because of drought, but these articles will continue to be chief features of the holiday dinner.

New York alone is buying in millions of pounds of turkeys for the holiday season. Live turkeys coming into the market by freight are expected to total around 85,000 birds, or like 1,300,000 pounds of turkey or 150,000 10-pound turkeys.

But, producer men said, the greatest portion of turkeys coming into the market are heavy birds, about 28 cents a pound higher, around 28 cents; cranberry crop short and price 6 cents higher at 20 cents a pound.

Atlanta—Turkeys are 5 to 7 cents a pound higher than last year, chickens 4 to 5 cents a pound higher, cranberries 35 to 40 per cent higher. Other supplies about the same.

San Francisco—Turkeys about 7 cents a pound higher at 35 cents with possibility of scarcity later as result of heavy rains to the East. Cranberries slightly higher but supply considered adequate for demand. Other supplies about the same.

Boston—Turkeys slightly higher, with Yarmouth, Mass., and Northwestern 38 cents a pound. Other "fixins" about the same as last year.

Chicago—Turkeys about 3 cents a pound higher, 37 cents cranberries about 2 cents a pound higher and other amounts about the same.

Eleven people killed, running into trains.

Two pedestrians killed walking in front of cars.

One woman killed by hit and run driver.

Twenty boys and girls were killed between the ages of 14 and 25.

Fifty percent (nearly) of those killed were under the age of 25.

One fatality due to a cow in the road.

Six children under 6 years of age were killed by being run over by a car, heading second, skinned in front of an automobile.

Third, was hit by a hit and run driver.

Fourth, was inside of car running on the side of the road.

St. Louis—Turkeys about 26 cents a pound higher than last year.

Six children under 6 years of age were killed by being run over by a car, and so on!

The ages of people killed during the month of October ranged from 14 months to 80 years. Playing in the streets while walking over it to a pedestrian, 89, was killed in front of an automobile.

The little child that was in the way of a barking dog, the responsibility, evidently, was the parents'.

The two-year-old child that was skinned in front of an automobile, certainly, the parents should not have permitted the child to play in the streets.

An innocent girl was killed when her father, who was driving the car, lost control of the vehicle.

A boy, riding a bicycle, hit a pedestrian, 69 years of age, and killed him.

Again, we have a lady thrown out of a car in a wreck, a motorist.

The man who was killed avoided the accident because he was driving.

Eleven people killed at railroad crossings—the responsibility is yours.

Take the case of the driver who was driving his truck in a heavy fog and was instantly killed. Again, bad common sense was had, the driver driving his truck in the middle of the highway and visibility, a fatality would not have happened.

Take the case of a driver running his car into a bridge, drowning.

Vertically, if the driver did not know the river was there he should have been careful; if he did know the bridge was there, he should have been careful.

If he was to have an individual problem, and that is, the driver MUST think for himself.

Many of these accidents happen broad daylight—the majority, of course, happened after sunset.

Leesburg Commercial: We're not running for any office but so many of our readers have asked us where he should stand on the Townsend "Reviving" plan that we are constrained to satisfy their curiosity.

If it will work as smoothly as some of the speakers and writers insist, we're for it to the ultimate. However, $200 a month.

We are not yet convinced that it will.

The figures quoted by some of the speakers and writers in all were with the federal official statistics. In other words, statistics issued by federal department covering the total income of the United States and all its people, show that there is a 2 per cent sales tax to furnish enough money to give every person over the suggested age limit $200 a month.

Discussing the plan with a friend who is just as interested in finding out whether it will work as we are—if you can be said to "discuss" something neither—understands—we're for it.

Latest census returns in the two election precincts of Leesburg show 5,149 people. Estimated place approximately 10,000 of them in the town which would result in the $200 a month. That would make a total of $100,000 a month or One Million Two Hundred Thousand Dollars annually to be paid out in pension money.

Two per cent sales tax that would amount to $1,200,000 a year would necessitate a business in Leesburg of exactly Sixty Million Dollars. And that would include, of course, the "revolving" of the money that the pensioners received, provided they spent it all at home.

Now, we don't believe Leesburg can do $60,000,000 worth of business in a year, even with the help of a "revolving" fund of $100,000 a month.

Our friends are open to conviction. We would like the best in the world to believe the plan feasible. We are getting close to the age when we could qualify for that $200 a month. We have been saving years or so the wife quality for another $200, both of us quit work and have a good time and more money to spend, net, than we ever had. So we welcome conviction.

Plant City Enterprise: The people all over Florida appear to be in agreement with the "no slot machine" situation. The Legislature, as the biggest surprise of a half century, "legalized" such machines, but the law machinery seems to be pushing the operators against taxation. No body appears to know how to cope with it, which brings us back to what we have said many times—that the time of the general assembly was represented by those sent to Tallahassee to make laws under which the inhabitants as a whole would live.

On Myakka we have heard mostly about the "last resort" remedy. That paper says:

"From the way the slot machine law has been juggled and delayed it would seem that the folks that was a well-arranged affair before it ever went over to the Legislature. At no time, since we can recall, has there been in the state press a single article or opinion against slot machine activity as there is against the slot machines and the dual officeholding of the members of the state legislature."

The slot machine have been permitted to do business and yet they are permitted to take their place in every nook, corner and garret in the nickels, dimes and quarters without question that seems to be too early to say.

Enforcement officials, who take a stand and try to help clean them out and find them, seem to be the last resort. They are resorted to and an injunction is asked and the machine go right back into service. This happened in Polk county when Sheriff Bill Chavis made an attempt to get rid of slot machines last week. It also happened in several other counties in the state.

"But the most dismaying feature that it appears to us is that the slot machine operators have been permitted to do business and yet they are permitted to take their place in every nook, corner and garret in the nickels, dimes and quarters without question that seems to be too early to say.

Now there is conjecture as to just who was on the inside and who helped bring about this situation.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

Well, I didn't anymore than get back from my pre-meeting and settled down to work before "Red" Egerton of the Western News paper Union comes blowin' into the office like a 100 mile gale and sweeps me right off my feet and into his new Ford for a "fly" trip to Miami.

And "Red" kept my hair on end from the time we left until we got back. He has a trice of drive with one foot on the gas and the other on the brake and then he starts down a clog dance that looks like a car perform like a cross between a jackrabbit and a kangaroo.

There was nothing for me to do but take off my hat and hold on tight. I thought somebody had built a fence on both sides of the road—we went so fast the trees looked like a bunch of cabbages, and as near as I could figure they were all standin' still.

Week-End Food Sales Present Big Opportunity For Your Savings

"Higher food costs are much like the weather, in that everyone talks about the matter, yet only a small minority seriously attempts to do anything about it."

Such was a statement made today by Mr. Betzner of the Hardware Store, Belle Glade, Westinghouse refrigerator dealer.

"It's grant that every thrifty housewife is interested in cutting down food bills," Mr. Betzner commented, "but too many are overlooking a simple practical means of successfully combating this increasing menace to present standard of living."

According to Mr. Betzner, most housewives are endeavoring to fight higher food costs by cutting down on the quality or quantity of their foods; whereas there is a much more satisfactory solution to the problem, which requires no sacrifices of this kind.

The easiest way to economize on food costs, in the opinion of Mr. Betzner, is to take advantage of the week-end "bargain" prices presented by local food merchants, in their endeavor to attract trade.

"By buying practically all of your food products at these saloons and buyin' in large quantities, whenever additional savings are offered, it is possible to cut a family's food costs by as much as twenty per cent . . . $200 to $300 a week."

Of course, as Mr. Betzner points out, "it is necessary that you have a class electric refrigerator with plenty of room in the average space—if you are to keep this food fresh and wholesome until you are ready to use it. But, even so, this presents no serious obstacle, as the cost of the extra food savings affected will more than pay for a good electric refrigerator on the small monthly payment plan which we now have in effect."

ACCIDENTS TAKE 53 LIVES IN FLORIDA

It is important to drive carefully, to observe the traffic rules of common sense, and remember to think of your families when you take chances. If you are in a car, take care when you start your trip, especially if the weather is foggy, go very slowly, use your windshield wiper, and keep your lights on. Stay on the right side of the road. If you are driving a motor boat, make sure it is in working condition, a rail road crossing slow down—there may be a train across the track. If the road is slippery and damp, drive very carefully and avoid swerving.

If you are fire a campfire at night, get it off the road as far as possible, keep your lights on or build a fire, so that others may see it when walking on the highway during the daytime or night, always face traffic, and stay on the left side.

Driving an automobile is an important privilege, use it well and careful you drive in a safe manner.

Remember, human safety depends on YOU. Think of these accidents and fatalities and how they affect you and your family and home.

The hunting season has just opened. Hunters should be careful with the operation of their guns. Thousands of CCC workers are in woods and fields where you shoot. Be careful in crossing paths with loaded guns unless your trigger is on SAFETY.

Remember who some are here, because that for most of us, this will be really a Thanksgiving of joy.

CHANGE IN COACHING SYSTEM IS SOUGHT BY FLORIDA ALUMNI

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 20 — A committee investigating the coaching situation at the Rose Bowl team will make its recommendations to the board of the football season, Chairman Byron Mc. G. West announced.

The group is under instruction of the general alumni association to report their findings on the alumni coaching system, university authorities and the board of control Jan. 1 or later.

Today's announcement, which follows a vote of the committee, indicated the recommendations might be made earlier.

West said the group conferred at length with Dr. John T. Tigert, president of the university, and added that the discussions were "harmonious."

In a statement earlier this week West took issue with Tigert, who previously had said it would be necessary to look in other states to find material for a "Rose Bowl team." The committee chairman said Florida football material was available and a winning combination would result if proper coaching were given.

The committee will meet again soon, West said, and definite recommendations will be made.

There was no indication of whether there had been a discussion of the possibilities of bringing in a coach of national reputation, the solution of which was left to the committee.

The committee presented its report on the athletic situation to a meeting of the alumni council three weeks ago, but upon recommendation of the council, it was not made public.

Its contents were closely guarded until early this week, when West made his statement indicating the committee believed "major league competition cannot be met with minor league coaching."

With Dennis K. (Dutch) Stanley as head coach, the alumnae athletic team was established at the University of Miami in 1928. All members of the coaching staff, including Stanley, are recent graduates of the university.

The alumnae investigation was ordered by the general association a year ago, and the head held its annual session.

Committee members, all present at the meeting, were W. C. R. Farnsworth, President of Lakeland, J. L. Hearn of Tampa, and Barker Colson of Gainesville.

The statement issued after the meeting follows:

"Our committee, with full membership present, met with Dr. Tiger this morning and frankly discussed the athletic situation. The discussion was frank and the committee has not concluded its deliberations, we feel that considerable progress has been made.

"We expect to be able to arrive at definite conclusions and make recommendations to the proper authorities by the end of the football season."

"We desire to make it plain that there is no lack of harmony between the university authorities and the alumnae in their sincere desire to bring about a better situation in a constructive manner. With a common end in view, differences of opinion as to methods ought to be reconciled. We have said this and this will be accomplished."

PAHOKEE MEETS PONCE DE LEON SQUAD TONIGHT

First Game To Be Played Under Lights Scheduled Tonight

(Reprinted from Everglades News)

The first regularly scheduled football game to be played under electric lights in the Lake region is to be played tonight when Coach Frank Hobson's Paahokee foot ball team lines up against the last Ponce de Leon squad of Coral Gables. Coach Hobson stated yesterday that tonight's game will be one of the hardest on the local scene ever played. He has determined to do their best in an effort to win the lead in the win column.

Since last Friday afternoon's game when the Paahokee squad soundly trounced the Stuart eleven to the tune of 33 to 0, Coach Hobson has kept a keen eye on his men and has them in excellent hard practice. On Wednesday night of this week the high school pigskin carriers bucked up against tenacious bunches of town boys and furnished some excellent entertainment. The practice games was played under the lights.

The game last Friday afternoon gave the major portion of Coach Hobson's men an opportunity to play. Before the game came to an end the coach put in his second string men and they held their big brother back in the earlier stages of the fracas. Dick Gibbons, Joe Tolle, Rupert Mock and Louis Gold were the officials participating.

Roscoe Going Strong In Pug Lund's Shoes

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—Lithie George Roscoe, if he ever suffered from it, is making quick work of chasing any "Pug Lund" complex out of Minnesota's football yard. For two seasons now, a fat of moods, watched the all-American Lund, less gifted than he, enact some of the best football drama the Gophers have delivered in many a year.

This year, with Lund gone, followers of Berne Bierman's brilliant outfit know that Roscoe, a fat of moods, watched the all-American Lund, less gifted than he, enact some of the best football drama the Gophers have delivered in many a year.

Now they'd stopped worrying because Roscoe, and his exceptional forward-passer and good kicker, seems to be filling the bill with extra measure.

Roscoe was the superior passer, but Lund, though he was fat, had first started his attempt were of the flip-flop sort. Roscoe kicked better, but Lund, by long practice, learned how to hold the ball out longer so as to get eyes.

Roscoe ran the ball better, from the stylist's viewpoint, but Lund was the head-on plunger who refused to be stopped. Lund lost a player, but Roscoe played regular half, and "safety."

Facing the rear influence of all the doldrums, Roscoe went to the head-on plunger and now the opposition builds its strategy largely against him.

As a passer, Roscoe answers the coaches' dreams. He lays on the hook pass, any distance, throwing with a superb control.

Coach Frank Hobson's Paahokee high football warriors will go into action this afternoon at 3:30 against the squad representing Stuart High School. The game will be played on the Paahokee gridiron and a large crowd is expected to be in attendance to witness the Paahokee team in action for the first time this season.

Since returning from Flamingo Arrow camp near Auburndale where the Paahokee squad went on a week's vacation, coach Hobson has had his players under close observation and at last had decided on a starting line-up for today's game. He has several of the boys will have opportunity to play in the traces this afternoon.

The visiting team is under the guidance of Coach Jack Sutor who has two stringent rules that must not be broken if a boy wants to stay on the Stuart team. They are: No boy on the team is allowed to smoke and to shun practice. He is promised with the results of his crew thus far and has had several hard games for this eleven this season.

BLUE DEVILS OF PAHOKEE DEFEAT VERO BEACH 26-0

Use Straight Football on A Wet Field to Overcome
Visiting Team

(Reprinted from Everglades News)

Playing straight football on a field that was soaked by heavy downpours last Friday night the Blue Devils of Pahokee defeated the eleven from Vero Beach by a score of 26 to 0. The victory Friday night was the third for Coach Hobson's eleven as many of the Blue Devils good line remains unbroken by the enemy. A total of 99 points have been scored by the Blue Devils.

Rain brought the day Friday soaked the field and when the game started water ankle deep stood on the gridiron near the south goal. Prof. Speer and his agricultural class worked diligently removing the water from the field before game time and with another hour to work would probably have had the water off the field. It wanted "a foot or two of mud," however, since the field is well sodded.

During the first quarter Pahokee scored a touchdown after a series of line drives when the ball was carried over by Sapp. The extra point was not made. In the second quarter both teams had three nice tries for goals but the ball was again put in scoring distance and carried over by Upthegrove.

A pass brought the ball to 13 to 0 at the end of the half.

In the third quarter drives over the line took the ball down and again the Blue Devils scored and Smokey Spawner gained 15 yards by skirting end. Tabb carried the ball over and the quarter saw the score standing at 19 to 0.

During the final quarter a pass

STARTS MOVE TO END PAY OF 2-JOB
MEN IN THE STATE

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 21.—(FNS)—Joe C. Jenkins, attorney for the city, representing M. A. Collins, Jacksonville, has instituted a new move in an effort to stop the pay of 21 members of the legislature now employed in the legislative executive department, in the hearing of bill for injunction in the circuit court at Quincy.

Jenkins argued the case on its merits. Robert J. Pleus, assistant to the attorney general, in opposing the move for injunction, insisted that the case in his argument before the court.

Mr. Pleus argued first, that if the constitution is being violated, it is the duty of the attorney general to institute the proper action to protect the enforcement of its provisions, that a taxpayer does not have the technical right to institute such proceedings against the state, secondly, that injunction is not the proper remedy.

Jenkins in a letter to the attorney general requests permission to file amendment bill for injunction.

In his letter, Jenkins said: "I agree with Mr. Pleus that quo warrantum is a remedy but insist that injunction is the proper and preferable remedy. I would oppose against 21 members of the legislature scattered all over Florida."

In closing his letter, Jenkins stated: "Knowing the intense interest of thousands of taxpayers for a proper decision on injunction, I am sending you my copy of the bill which I will consent to having these actions in your name, thereby rendering my client, a taxpayer, and the other taxpayers of Florida, every assistance possible to end once and for all this inequitable practice of executive control of the legislative department through appointment of legislators to jobs in the executive branch of government."

Betzner Claims
New Low Cost
On Refrigeration

Lower refrigeration costs represent only a small fraction of the savings made possible by a good electric refrigerator, according to Lou Betzner of the Hardware Store, local Westinghouse refrigerator man in Belle Glade.

"Many people are still mistaken of thinking that an electric refrigerator pays for itself only during the warm weather months,"

Betzner said, in a statement today. "With the low cost of electricity, it saves more than it costs every month in the year. Now, take the matter of food buying, a good electric refrigerator, with ample usable food storage space, will permit the thrifty housewife to buy practically all her perishable food at the lowest possible 'gain' prices; keep it at the height of flavor and goodness for a week or more; use every bit of it, including all left-overs; is short, and save money on heating bills by as much as 15 to 20%."

To prove the truth of his contentions, Mr. Betzner submitted facts and figures on some experiments recently made in his store in operation with local Westinghouse refrigerator owners. Without in any way changing the quantity or quality of the foods purchased, food was saved in the amount of $17.65... from $2.00 to $3.00 a week. In view of these facts," Mr. Betzner concluded, "there is no good reason why anyone should be without a good dependable electric refrigerator, irrespective of the season of the year."

Official Refrigerator Salesmen (Betzner): umpire, Large (Furnace); head linesman, Goodell (Rollins); field judge, Brown (Florida).

Substitutions: Pardon, Wolfe for Wilkerson; F. Sapp for Tabb.

Coach for Wolfe; Spawner for Tabb.

Barnett for Carver; Burns for T.

Boyce for Ladd; Wren for Tabb;
